-Peter Buckingham - UK Film Council (UK):

Peter Buckingham has 30 years experience in the film industry at all levels of the business. He started as a cinema projectionist and quickly worked his way up in the commercial sector to managerial positions in exhibition and distribution. In both sectors he has performed almost every position it is possible to do. Most of his career has been spent as a hands on leader – either as a director or managing director of a division or a company.

He has a huge and deep knowledge of all aspects of these two sectors. This combined with the close proximity in many cases with UK production – especially in his time at FilmFour (channel 4) made him a comparatively unique candidate for the position at the UK Film Council to be head of Distribution and Exhibition. In this capacity he has developed deep radical and far reaching strategies to achieve an extremely difficult objective – namely to encourage more and more people to watch a wider range of films across the UK. To achieve this objective he focussed on two key principles. Firstly always concentrate on what the audience is wanting and thinking. Secondly be open to new opportunities that are arising in the digital world to achieve that goal. These two principles have lead to ground breaking projects such as the Digital Screen network and www.finanyfilm.com both world first projects in the UK.

EUROPA DISTRIBUTION ANNUAL CONFERENCE: OPEN SESSION ON VARIOUS TOPICS

MEDIA:

- MEDIA selective distribution support / issue with sales agents (Antonio Medici & John Dick)
- Future MEDIA Programme : discussion about the public consultation launched by the European Commission (see document enclosed with questions)

VOD (Marcus Van der Zwaag):

- Discussion about the possibility of having one clear clause regarding VOD for all European distributors in deal memos and contracts they make with sales-agents. So that distributors do not end up with only TVOD, no SVOD, or only non-exclusive VOD rights, etc. etc.

Film promotion via digital social networks (Carola Stern):

- Are there surveys on how efficient digital marketing is?
- Do distributors use agencies, or can they handle that themselves?

Europa Distribution strategy (Luis Froes):

- How can we benefit in terms of costs releasing the same movie in different countries?

QUESTIONNAIRE ABOUT THE FUTURE MEDIA PROGRAMME

Distribution support

- What do you think of the current schemes (automatic and selective)? What could be improved?
- What other action line in the field of distribution should be supported by the new programme?
- Should support for promotion and distribution of audiovisual works start at an earlier stage (e.g. promotion measures during the development phase) and include producers as beneficiaries?

Digitization & new business models

- Besides the support for the digitisation of cinema projection, which other specific supports in the field of digitisation would you consider effective with regard to the competitiveness of the European audiovisual sector? What kind of support would be suitable (grants, support of digital master copies, guarantees)?
- How do you think could the MEDIA programme support the development of new business models emerging from digitisation of production and projection of films? What new business models for audiovisual media should be supported by MEDIA and how?
- To what extent should new technologies be taken into account by a new MEDIA programme (3D, cross-media and transmedia projects, games, mobile TV)

General comments with regard to a new MEDIA programme

- What fields of action are totally missing so far?
- What do you think are risks and opportunities for the European audiovisual sector?
- Should support for the TV sector be strengthened? How?
- How can the MEDIA programme help improve film/media literacy. Do you think media literacy is a tool to build up an audience for European works?
- How could the MEDIA programme be more supportive for strengthening the audiovisual sector of Members of the programme with low production capacity?
- Should the scope of the MEDIA programme be wider and include European neighbouring countries
